Outlook

June was another positive month for Brazilian assets. When it comes to local news, the relationship between Bolsonaro and relevant lawmakers is still improving, mainly when focused on the economic agenda. For instance, the so-awaited sanitation bill had been approved by the end of the month, prompting states and municipalities to privatize water and sewage companies. Looking at international news, the Covid-19 seems to be more controlled, even with higher case numbers in the US. More importantly, the death toll still follows a downward trend. Besides, with the normality being restored , activity data has been surprisingly positive, generating a better outlook for the economy.

The background of the slide features a close-up of a hand with a finger pointing at a digital screen. The screen displays a complex financial chart with multiple lines in white, green, and red, set against a dark blue grid. The overall color palette is dominated by deep blues and purples, with bright orange abstract shapes in the corners. A large, curved orange shape is in the top right, and a diagonal orange bar is in the bottom left.
