Outlook

In December, both domestic and global activities showed positive trends. In Brazil, the combination of Black Friday sales performance and the FGTS (“Employee Government Severance Fund”) withdrawal impact in consumption will probably contribute to a better quarterly GDP result, and consequentially a positive carryover effect for 2020. With regards to the international scenario, indicators have been showing stability in the global activity, especially in Asian countries, which reduces the short-term recession risk. Lastly, Trump promised a Trade War ‘Phase 1’ Agreement to be signed on January 15th, generating good performance in the markets globally.

The background of the slide features a close-up of a hand with a finger pointing at a digital screen. The screen displays a complex financial chart with multiple lines in white, green, and red, set against a dark blue grid. The entire scene is overlaid with a semi-transparent dark blue layer. Two large, solid orange shapes are positioned on the right and bottom-left corners, adding a modern, graphic touch to the design.
